About us

History

GSL Power based in Exmouth, Devon is a leading supplier and manufacturer of lighting and audio products, specialising in power distribution solutions.

The company was formed by Garry Lodge in 2004 and it has been delivering a wide range of quality equipment and services to the events, entertainment, film, music and IT industries ever since.

Garry has nearly 30 years' experience working with some of the largest and most respected entertainment companies in the industry. He is a regular face and exhibitor at key events and exhibitions, including PLASA and the ABTT Theatre Show.

The team at GSL is famous for our unrivalled expertise and professional advice, and our equipment and bespoke products are used by global brand customers all over the world.

Why GSL Power

Once we receive a specification from a customer, we create an illustrative example of how the equipment will look and function, so that any changes can easily be made to the specification. These changes can then be approved by the customer before we bring their vision to life.

Here at GSL Power, we're so confident with our results, we will even include a FREE LIFETIME LABOUR WARRANTY on any work we carry out for you... so what are you waiting for?!

Our services

Personal Service

GSL Power offers a full portfolio of power distribution manufacturing and support services. Our professional and highly trained technicians are experts in designing, installing and supporting power distro products and solutions. We provide a personal service. When you contact us, you can be certain that you're going to talk to a friendly, knowledgeable professional who will assess your exact needs and make expert suggestions to help you.

Bespoke Product Development

If you have a vision for a product that you would like turned into reality, GSL Power specialise in designing and manufacturing bespoke power distro and power related products to a fixed specification, no matter how complex your requirement. We manufacture products that can handle the rigours of touring or harsh environments and our bespoke equipment can be finished to include your logo and company colours.

Products in Stock

GSL Power don't just create bespoke power equipment and solutions, we manufacture our own range of quality products available in stock. In fact GSL can supply a vast range of electrical systems, control panels, adapters, splitters and extension cables designed and built to satisfy the most complex of power distribution projects. We can also supply quality parts such as MCBs, RCBOs, Plugs and Sockets at competitive prices, so be sure to use GSL Power as your one stop shop!

Installation and Support

The GSL Power installation and support team offers a full portfolio of installation and support services. From power distro systems design, to installation and testing onsite. We offer all the support services that you would expect from a market leader.

Customer testimonials

Matthew Farquar - Moving Lights Supervisor – White Light

From design through quotation and to the final product, GSL were a dream to work with. They made the design process simple and straightforward even with our unique requests. The unit was built and delivered quickly and completely to specification at a very competitive price and ready for installation immediately. We couldn't have asked for more. Overall very happy with all of the team and the products at GSL and will use them in the future.

Nick Edwards - Managing Director - Aurora Lighting Hire

We have worked closely with GSL Power on a variety of distribution and control projects and the results have been impeccable. It's fair to say that Garry Lodge and Dave Whately are managing to define industry standards as they continue to develop products of the highest calibre – and long may they continue to do so!

Adam Beaumont - UK Brand Manager - Area Four Industries

This is the first time I have used GSL, and the wall mount patch bays and outlet boxes they made for me were really great quality, with robust chassis and very neat wiring. Even after a unexpected change of spec, they still managed to hit my deadline for delivery. Great service!

Ed Railton - Director - Limelite Lighting

We have used GSL power for all of our Hardpower Racks and when we required another 72 way distro to be designed and built within 10 days GSL once again proved themselves to work within a tight times scale and produce great equipment.

Ciaran Tallon - Director – PSI

Just wanted to say thanks so much for the new mains distro you made. It worked out amazing. Exactly what I wanted for the tour. Great job and thanks so much for making it so quickly for us.

Colin Bodenham - Director – Utopium

The Team at GSL are great to work with, they listen, come up with practical solutions, react expediently, and supply a quality product.
